Flu Season

Flu season is here. Influenza is an illness that can affect the nose, throat and sometimes the lungs. Symptoms include fever, chills, muscle pains, headache, runny nose, sore throat, cough, fatigue and may or may not come with stomach symptoms. If you feel that you have been infected, notify health services. The sooner you get treatment, the better you will be. The best ways for prevention include frequently washing your hands, increased hydration and staying away from those infected. If you have already been infected, isolation is key to prevent the illness from spreading. As always, you may notify health services if you are feeling any symptoms for further evaluation.

Financial Services Message

As a part of ORS 423.105, Court Ordered Financial Obligations (COFOs) are set to begin collecting on March 16, 2020. Before these collections begin, we want to let you know how they will affect deposits made to your trust account.

1. Per statute, 15% will be deducted from each eligible deposit* and distributed as shown below.
2. 5% is deposited into Transitional Savings until the account reaches $500.
 - a. 10% is collected for Court Ordered Financial Obligations (COFOs).
 - b. Once the Transitional Savings account has reached $500, the entire 15% will be collected for COFOs, until satisfied.
3. Once COFOs have been satisfied, AICs may choose to continue to deposit 5% from each eligible deposit into Transitional Savings.

Once both the Transitional Savings and the COFOs have been satisfied, no further court ordered obligations will be deducted from eligible deposits.

*Eligible deposits are moneys deposited in an AIC trust account including, but not limited to, AIC performance monetary awards (PRAS) and moneys received from an AIC's family members or friends. Eligible deposits do not include protected moneys.

We want to make sure you understand where to direct questions about COFO debt details. The Department of Corrections (DOC) does not have detailed information about these debts, as they are statutory collections made on behalf of the Oregon Judicial Department (OJD). OJD has provided the below address where you can submit questions regarding COFO debt details directly.

Oregon Judicial Department
Business and Fiscal Services Division
Attn: Collections
1163 State Street
Salem, OR 97301

We will provide another message closer to our planned start date of March 16, 2020. Until then, please direct all questions to Nick Ogle in Financial Services. Thank you, Financial Services.

Addiction Recovery Class

Have you paid a price in pain and suffering because of your addictions? Taking steps from addiction to recovery and seeking spiritual awakening can improve our relationship with our Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ. The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints invites you to join them in addiction-recovery meetings in the Chapel area on Sundays from 1:00 to 2:45 PM. To sign up, please send an orange Add/Drop form to Religious Services. A new cycle of twelve classes will start on March 1, 2020. All are welcome!
